Ban Asked on Rail Rate Boosts Pending Study

OTTAWA (CP)—Prairie farm unions today appealed to the cabinet for increased federal aid to farmers, including "multi-million-dollar deficiency payments to prairie grain growers." Major sacrifices by producers, including acreage reductions and market losses to reduce surpluses and help stabilize world prices, have been met with poor rewards, the unions' central council said in a brief to Prime Minister Diefenbaker and his ministers.

As rewards, farmers were faced with "higher costs for the things they buy, an artificially low world price (for their products) a return for their grain of only about 75 per cent of this artificially low price, an increasingly restricted market in Europe, and a serious loss of past and future markets."

The Farm Union Council also asked:

1. A ban on any further freight rate boosts until a federal study has been completed on the freight rate structure. This study also should include highway trucking.
2. The government should take over the cost of maintaining a subsidy on flour exports. At present, the price cut on exports meant a lower return to farmers.
3. Federal farm credit facilities should be overhauled with maximum loans raised to $25,000 from $15,000.
4. The government should grant recognition to Communist China in the hope of expanding trade with that country.
5. More federal financial aid should be made in the field of mental health.
6. Corporations should be compelled to distribute all net earnings to shareholders and raise expansion capital from outside sources. This would do away with company practices of setting aside "a share of the consumer's dollar to accumulate funds for expansion." This practice was "an injustice to the consumer whose price is unduly increased."

Onley Receives New Honors

SUMMERLAND — He's done it again. Honors have come Toni Onley's way this weekend when word was received from Toronto that he has been elected to the Canadian Society of Painters in Water Color.

The society has a limited number of painters and Toni has been submitting his work to them for five years in the hope of being chosen for membership. His aim has become a reality.

Mr. Onley, who is in Mexico studying on a scholarship, has established a studio in San Miguel in a room on the top floor of a building on a high point in the town. He wanted to paint from sunrise to sunset and the studio gives him this freedom. It has three balconies so that the view is varied. He paid the rent for a year with one of his paintings.

The New Design Gallery in Vancouver is Onley's agent which has sent a number of his pictures to eastern Canada for exhibition there.

Special prosecutor Victor Dryer, who conducted the Crown's case through the trial, also is taking a hand in the appeal. He will argue that Sommers should have drawn five years on conspiracy alone.

The appeal is likely to last a week—longer if counsel insist on going into trial evidence. The appeal court probably will reserve its decision and hand down a verdict some weeks hence.

Four Children Die in Indian Village Fire

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE (CP) — Four children were burned to death early today after a coal oil lamp they requested be left near their bed started a fire which destroyed their frame home in a Sioux Indian village four miles southwest of here.

Killed were Lois, 3, Bernice, 6, Valerie, 8, and Gerald, 10, children of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Pashe.

Mr. Pashe, 30, and his 28-year-old wife Dolores escaped by diving through a window. Mrs. Pashe then re-entered the building and rescued two other children, twin brothers Barry and Gary, 2.

The father suffered a severe gash to his right forearm and burns to his upper body when he broke a window in an attempt to rescue the other children. He was reported in fair condition in hospital here after undergoing surgery on his arm. Mrs. Pashe was in good condition with minor facial burns and shock.

A fire department official said the three-room frame house was beyond saving when two pumper trucks arrived at the scene after bucking roads made heavy by drifting snow.

Firemen said they were told by the parents the victims had asked for the lamp because they were upset over the death Sunday of their five-month-old cousin who died of natural causes.

Firemen said the lamp apparently was accidentally overturned by one of the sleeping children. The bodies were found heaped on a bed where they had been attempting to escape through a window.

Youth Faces Arson Charge

VANCOUVER (CP) — Robert Stuart Irvine, 18, was charged with arson following three fires in an east end school.

The school fires early Sunday were three of seven set in the area within an hour. Police said an arsonist struck three times at Pacific GMC Sales Limited and at a car in a private garage at the home of John Roming.

The first at the Vancouver Technical School destroyed the telephone switchboard, damaged a classroom floor and the door to the vice-principal's office. Damage was estimated at $500.

Irvine was arrested at a bus stop near the fire scene.

NOW FOR THE CAR

With some respite from heavy snowfalls that have blanketed central Ontario in the last few days, Roy Tipling of Redickville, Ont., about 25 miles southwest of Barrie, starts in to dig out his car from under huge drifts. The car was buried for more than a week on a nearby highway. (CP Wirephoto)

Unemployed Total Rises in Canada

OTTAWA (CP) — The number of unemployed in Canada rose to 538,000 in the week ended Jan. 17—a post-war high for mid-January—up 98,000 from the week of Dec. 13 and 11,000 from the week of Jan. 18 a year ago.

Unemployment, although still substantial, continued to rise more slowly than last year, the labor department and bureau of statistics said today in a joint release. The number seeking work was 8.9 per cent of the labor force, compared with 8.8 last year.

Bureau officials said the 538,000 without jobs was the highest mid-January total in post-war history. Unemployment usually moves towards winter highs in March. The post-war highs for February and March were last year. February's mid-month total was 563,000 and the mid-March high was 597,000.

The number of persons seeking jobs at National Employment Service offices totalled 775,658 on Jan. 15, up 201,421 from Dec. 11 but down 27,247 from Jan. 16, 1958. Some of these persons are not completely without work, but are seeking a switch in jobs.

Non-farm workers with jobs dipped to 4,938,000 in mid-January from December's 5,047,000, though up from 5,282,000 a year ago.

BATTLE AGAINST RIVER CONTINUES

Activity along the flooded Wahash River moved southward today as National Guardsmen fought to save a levee near Oaktown, about 40 miles south of Terre Haute, Ind. Meanwhile, the crest had passed at West Terre Haute and only a small crew of volunteer workers remained on the scene to patrol the levee. Pictured are four boys who joined hundreds of volunteers in the battle to hold back the rising waters of the river at Terre Haute. Doctors Fight to Save 12-Year-Old

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Doctors are fighting to save the life of Alf Grey, 12, who touched a 60,000-volt line on a high tension power line pole in nearby Coquitlam district Saturday, then fell 20 feet to the ground, his clothing in flames.

More than 80 per cent of the boy's body is covered with third degree burns and doctors report his condition as critical.

Ivan ran for help and Mrs. Grey and Shamrock ran to the scene.

Shamrock said climbing the steel tower was "a nightmare." "I could see Alf above me," she said. "He was screaming. He was all in flames. Then his clothes seemed to give way and he hurtled past me."

Edwin Monsen, a neighbor who had seen the flash, raced to the pole in his car and carried the injured boy to a doctor in Port Coquitlam.

Allies Propose Big Four Talks

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, Britain and France proposed to Russia today that a four-power foreign ministers conference on Germany be convened this spring with German advisers present.

A preference was expressed for late April or early May as the meeting time.

This is the first time the Western powers have called for inclusion within the conference room of representatives from Communist East Germany and Allied West Germany.

While they would have the role of advisers the step could prove to be a historic move toward some compromise with Russia on the problem of reunifying Germany.

The Western proposals were set forth in similar notes delivered in Moscow today.

SUMMIT MEET TOO?
At the same time, U.S. officials opened up the possibility of a summit conference to follow if the foreign ministers succeeded in making substantial progress on German issues.

As the note was delivered State Secretary Dulles lay ill of cancer.

Lumber Industry To Oppose Pay Hike Demands

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia's biggest union can expect stiff opposition to demands for a 20 per cent wage increase, a spokesman for the lumber industry has indicated here.

John Billings of Forest Industrial Relations was commenting on statements made at the International Woodworkers of America convention here that the industry will be seeking the across-the-board increase in negotiations this year with coast lumber operators.

The 30,000-member union's convention closed Saturday with delegates' approval of wage increases that would increase base rates to $2.06 an hour from $1.72.

Mr. Billings said the increase would add $20,000,000 to the industry's wage bill.

"It's astonishing that the union would make one of its heaviest demands under the circumstances now prevailing in the industry," he said.

Toronto Man To Head Air Transport Body

OTTAWA (CP) — Appointment of Paul Yotvart Duvault, a director and vice-president of Canadian Engines Limited, Toronto, as chairman of the Air Transport Board was announced today by Transport Minister Hees.

Mr. Duvault, long associated with both military and commercial aviation, will fill a vacancy created by the death of William Matthews, who died last Sept. 2.

PENSIONER WON'T LEAVE DOOMED VILLAGE

'All We Can Do is Pray'

HERBRIGGEN, Switzerland (AP)—"all we can do is pray," will become a thundering avalanche when it reaches the edge of the precipice.

The great mass began creeping down the Madellhorn toward the precipice eight days ago. Then on Friday a new cold spell set in, solidified the thawing snow and ice, and the movement stopped.

Winter frosts continued during the weekend. Authorities rock-dangled the doomed village would have a few more days of grace, at least. But Herbriggens end is certain when a prolonged thaw comes.

Resigned to losing their homes, most of the villagers abandoned Herbriggens eight days ago. But a small rear guard including the Burgner are doggedly staying on regardless of the creeping danger.

TRAINING CYCLISTS

Some 300,000 child cyclists a year will be trained to handle and maintain their bicycles correctly under a new scheme inaugurated by the Ministry of Transport in Britain. 3,000 local instructors and examiners working on a voluntary basis will be employed. They will give young cyclists eight 45-minute lessons on bicycling, with particular emphasis on road safety. Here Mr. Nugent of the Ministry of Transport chats with two schoolboys, Neil Sedgwick (left) and Richard Wood (centre), about the Proficiency Certificate he is holding. The certificate will be given to children who have "passed" the test. Neil Sedgwick already has obtained the pennant of the West London Road Safety Committee, which indicates his proficiency as a "safe cyclist."

More Lumber Exports Urged

MONTREAL (CP) — Canadian lumbermen should explore more thoroughly the possibility of increasing exports to Britain and other British Commonwealth nations, Ronald H. Robinson, president of the Canadian Lumbermen's Association, said today.

He told the opening session of the association's annual meeting: "During the first 10 months of 1958, total Canadian (lumber) exports rose by about six per cent. "However, while exports to the United States increased considerably, it must be pointed out that exports to Great Britain, British Commonwealth and other countries declined."

NEED HARD SELL
"This would seem to indicate that Canadian lumbermen are not doing enough to encourage exports to those countries. "During 1958, he said, lumber exports to the United Kingdom were down by some 12 per cent, due partly to Russian competition. However, lumber exporters expected improved trade in the U.K. market this year. "About half the country's lumber production is exported."

Turning to Canada's general economy, the Montrealer said: "No boom is expected, and there is some fear of inflationary pressures, but generally there is confidence for 1959 in the expanding economy of our country." Reviewing Canadian lumber conditions, Mr. Robinson stated: "In the domestic market the

Centralization of Authority in B.C. Education Scored

VANCOUVER — (CP) — Vancouver School Board today expressed concern about what it called a growing trend towards centralization of authority in the British Columbia educational system.

In a brief to the Chant royal commission on education, the board said an increasing number of matters have to be referred to Victoria for approval before local action could be taken.

This number discouraged local initiative the brief said. There should be more autonomy in supervisory staff, curriculum, text books, buildings and playgrounds.

20 Lives Lost In Accidents

By The Canadian Press
Twenty people died in accidents across Canada during the weekend, seven in a rash of fires in Ontario and Quebec. The national traffic toll reached 10. Ontario and Quebec led the list with seven deaths each, a Canadian Press survey showed. These included four traffic fatalities, Central Canada's lightest two-day traffic count in months.

Italy to Get New Christian Democrat Gov't

ROME — (AP) — Italy gets a new Christian Democrat government today, but she can't be sure the worst political crisis since the war is over until Parliament approves the cabinet.

Antonio Segni succeeded in forming a one-party minority government. President Giovanni Gronchi approved it and told Segni to come back to the presidential palace today and be sworn in as premier.

It appeared Segni's government would pass in Parliament since it has support of the Liberals and some monarchists.

Segni needed no parliamentary vote of confidence to assume office. But late this week or early next both the chamber of deputies and the Senate must approve the cabinet. Failure to get this would force him to resign. The 68-year-old leader's cabinet is limited to Christian Democrats only. The party, although Italy's largest, is 26 votes short of the 299 necessary for a majority in the chamber of deputies. It falls four votes short of a Senate majority.

The Liberals, a right-of-centre group with four seats in the Senate and 17 deputies have agreed to back the Segni government on the first confidence votes. The new premier is expected to pick up the nine additional necessary deputies from the 23 monarchists in the chamber.

Leaders Work On New Cyprus Peace Agreement

LONDON (AP) — Leaders of all factions in the Cyprus dispute conferred today in preparation for their conference to work out a peace agreement. The major contenders all were in London, and apparently confident that agreement would be reached at the conference starting Tuesday. It is expected to produce a constitution that will make Cyprus an independent republic, ending 81 years of British rule over the strategic island in the east Mediterranean.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd met with foreign ministers Evangelos Averoff of Greece and Fatin Rustu Zorlu of Turkey, Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox-Boyd and Sir Hugh Foot, the British governor of Cyprus. Archbishop Makarios, the leader of the Greek Cypriot campaign to end British control of the island, met with other Greek Cypriot leaders and then received Foot at his hotel.

Makarios and Kutchuk will meet Tuesday with the foreign ministers of Britain, Greece and Turkey in a parley to draw up final terms for the conversion of Cyprus into a republic.

West Replies To Kremlin On Conference

MOSCOW — (AP) — The Western powers replied today to the Kremlin's proposal for a multi-nation conference to arrange a German peace treaty and settle the Berlin question.

The U.S. and British embassies sent their government's replies to the Soviet foreign ministry by messengers this morning.

French Ambassador Maurice Dejean and West German Ambassador Hans Kroll were to deliver theirs in person. Embassy spokesman said the texts of the notes would be released simultaneously in the Western capitals later today.

It was understood that the replies rejected the Kremlin's bid for a peace - treaty conference of all nations participating in the Second World War and proposed instead a meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers with West and East Germany represented by observers.

Hunter Continuing War Against Cougars

WESTBANK — Though the bounty on cougar no longer applies, that fact does not deter Clarence Fenton of Westbank from shooting these predatory animals whenever possible. Over the past several years he has accounted for nine of these animals.

The last three bagged — a cat and her two kittens — Clarence shot last Sunday up in Trepaw Creek country. They weighed in the neighborhood of 150 pounds for the mother, and 50 each for the kittens. Mr. Fenton is presenting the meat from these animals to be served at the "rod and gun club banquet, February 28.

With his cougar hound, the hunter easily treed the kittens, but the mother was more wary, and he had some difficulty in finishing her off.

Clarence has hunted since he was six years old when he used to go out with his father, the late Jim Fenton. So young was he, that there were times when he was so tired that he would sit on a log in the snow and wait for his dad to finish hunting. Occasionally, indeed, his dad carried him home from these expeditions.

He was only 13 when he shot his first bear.

IN HIS BLOOD

Hunting is in Clarence's blood, and now he and his wife, Marjorie, have three small sons who doubtless will follow in their father's and grandfather's footsteps.

Mrs. Fenton, the former Miss Marjorie Stephenson of Wapella, Sask., met Clarence when she was visiting in the Okanagan some 10 or more years ago. They were married at Wapella in 1932, and their three boys are: Barton, five last November; James, who will be four next August, and Robert, aged 14 months.

Rules Set for Health Centre Use

SUMMERLAND — Regulations governing use of the Summerland Health Centre were formulated at the first meeting of the committee of management during the weekend.

The regulations are:

1. Reservations for use of the building are to be made at the municipal office.
2. Activities of the South Okanagan Health Unit shall have priority over all other requests for the use of the building.

Use of the lecture room may be granted without fee to organizations directly concerned with health activities on receipt of written application to G.D. Smith municipal clerk.

The meeting decided that only equipment to be used in work done in the Health Centre may be stored in the building.

A general meeting of representatives of organizations contributing money towards the exension of the building will be held late in March.

Councillor Norman Holmes was in the chair. Others present were Miss Hattie Empey, PHN, Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh, H. R. J. Richards and G. D. Smith, secretary of the administration committee. Dr. D. A. Clarke, medical director of the South Okanagan Health Unit is a member ex-officio.

two-year terms, the last year of which was head of the group.

Joseph Harris sat on the board as city representative during his term as alderman. It is the first such experience for Hume.

Nominations closed a week ago. An incumbent member also will be re-elected. He is Jim Rees, chairman of the building committee, who has just completed his first two-year term.

The district's wood storage tank will be protected from shrinkage this summer by a sprinkler wetting the top.

Pumping costs, major item in the group's 1959 budget, centred the discussion. Solution will be discussed with the West Kootenay Power and Light Co.

A government survey of irrigation costs will receive the cooperation of the W.B.I.D. The Water Rights Branch has requested information to aid in setting up a comparison between irrigation districts.

Directors agreed to supervise installation of a pipeline and hydrant in connection with the subdivision of a lot under the Veterans Land Act.

More Strap Urged For Young People

KELOWNA — (CP) — More liberal use of the strap at home and at school and a curfew law would be good for young people, the Kelowna Parent-Teacher association says.

The association gave this opinion in answer to a questionnaire sent out by the Kelowna Youth Council.

The council was making a survey to discover causes for the "apparent present tendencies toward decay" in youth.

A large number of Okanagan parents and other adults replied they were concerned about swearing, smoking and drinking among teenagers. They said these were indications of a growing trend toward delinquency.

The Kelowna Ministerial Association said parents have placed too much emphasis on material gain, giving moral and spiritual necessities of their own and their children's lives second place.

One parent commented on possible dangers of unchaperoned parties.

Valley Pioneer Dies at Age 85

KELOWNA — Funeral services were held this afternoon from St. Michael and All Angels' Anglican Church for Edward M. "Ted" Carruthers, 85, one of the most colorful Okanagan residents, who died Friday afternoon in the Kelowna General Hospital.

Archdeacon D. S. Catchpole officiated and remains are being forwarded by Kelowna Funeral directors to Vancouver for cremation.

An ardent community worker since coming here in 1891, Mr. Carruthers was instrumental in getting the Kelowna Land and Orchard Co. to donate the property where the Kelowna General Hospital now stands. He was the first president of the hospital society when the institution was re-organized and held this post for three consecutive years. As a justice of the peace he administered the oaths of office to Kelowna's city council and school trustees for many years.

A resident of the Kelowna area for 68 years, Mr. Carruthers was born in Inverness, Scotland in July, 1873, coming to Canada at the age of 17.

He is survived by his wife, Olive; three sons, William R. of Kelowna, W. Howard of California, and Colin of New Westminster; three daughters, Mrs. Charles Ness of Medicine Hat, Mrs. Maurice Meikle of Kelowna, and Mrs. Alfred Harvey of Ocean Falls; 13 grandchildren; three great grandchildren and a sister in England.

Tariff changes among the member nations of GATT are subject to the approval of that body but in the case under discussion only the two countries involved are concerned. They are therefore trying to reach a formula by mutual agreement. Negotiations have been proceeding for a considerable period.

Social Credit Argument Is Difficult to Follow

When the Social Credit government last week blocked an attempt to examine the expenditures of government agencies like the PGE, the Highways Toll Authority, and the Workmen's Compensation Board, we once more wondered about democracy. Health Minister Eric Martin said such accounts were beyond the responsibility of the committee. The government backed him saying, in other words, "hands off."

There is doubtless some ground for arguing that these agencies operate separately from normal government direction, and so are outside the scope of legislative scrutiny because of their independent status. How far this view should prevail is a moot point, however, when government funds are employed either directly or by way of guarantee to keep them in being. Some concern at least in their accounting records would seem to be warranted by the public accounts committee.

The instance of the Toll Bridges and Highways Authority in particular which receives a direct annual subsidy is worth noting. This in essence is an extension of the highways department, and if originally desired could have been kept within the scope of that department. It was more convenient and perhaps easier of operation to keep it separate; that should not mean it is turned into a secret society, however.

The ruling personnel of this authority is interesting. Except for Mr. Einar Gunderson, the board consists entirely of cabinet ministers—Premier Bennett, Mr. Gagliardi, Mr. Kiernan, Mr. Wicks and Mr. Black. It is patently a government board in fact as well as in name. It is stretching logic rather far, therefore, to suggest that what these government members do is beyond the inquiry of a legislative committee. The function of this committee is to examine the accounts of ministerial departments.

If exemption from inquiry were carried to extreme lengths a government could transfer all its business into crown agencies beyond legislative responsibility, and the public could never learn about its own affairs. That is about the size of it, at least with the cabinet dominated toll authority.

A Fine Tribute to Sportsmen

Any doubts sportsmen had regarding the city's feelings towards Ted Bowsfield were quickly dispelled Saturday night when close to 150 old friends, teammates and wellwishers paid tribute to the young southpaw.

Ted himself probably summed up the feelings up best when he said that of all the tributes paid to him since he broke into the big leagues "this is the finest." For these were his friends. Old men, middle-aged men, men of his own age group, and the majority of them with fond memories of his earlier years in Penticton.

These were the men who helped him when he was just another nondescript youngster trying to throw a baseball. Some of them coached him, some played with him or against him, and the others sat in the stands and wondered. Whether for him or against him in those early years, they all came back on Saturday night to applaud his success and wish him well in the ball season just around the corner.

Ted has no illusions about fame. Last year was a great triumph for him. This year—who can tell. Maybe greater triumphs, maybe harder work than ever before just to stay close to the top.

One other thing emerged from Saturday night's banquet. Penticton sportsmen had set another first for the Interior. We hope they don't lose their position in following years.

The people responsible for organizing Saturday's affair showed some nice touches for a city already famed for its hospitality. As Cedric Tallis, the much travelled general manager of Vancouver Mounties said in private conversation after the proceedings were over: "I've been around a lot, attended many functions, but I can say in all sincerity that I've never felt quite so welcome in any city before. When I checked into my hotel room and found everything prepared for my comfort, including a small gift of welcome, I knew why Penticton had the reputation of being one of the finest host cities in B.C."

Our hope is that Saturday's banquet honoring the sportsman of the year will become an annual affair, and that in the future there are many more Ted Bowsfields to honor.

Shoring Up Democracy

The scandalous extent to which a few United States labor union leaders have engaged in plunder, blackmail, intimidation and other lawless practices have become a major issue before all branches of government in Washington. Following various Supreme Court hearings and Congressional inquiries, Democrats in the Senate and President Eisenhower himself have placed three pieces of corrective legislation before Congress. There is substantial agreement in principle between these proposals, but the president's measure is the most sweeping in scope.

It was immediately welcomed as a "bill of rights for labor," but it goes further than that. It would substantially restore democratic principles of honesty, mutual tolerance, and respect for personal freedom and property rights. The desecration of these principles has impaired the freedom of persons, the security of justice and even the foundation of legislatures.

The President's 20-point program for new legislation and for strengthening the Taft-Hartley Law avoids both retaliatory and punitive measures. It is based on the reasonable assumption that the vast majority of unions and union members, together with employers and the general public, will welcome the long overdue reforms.

The three cardinal provisions advanced by the President would make genuinely democratic election of union officers mandatory; would prevent "blackmail" picketing to force unwilling employees into unions they do not want to join; and would require all unions to submit detailed annual financial reports to their members and to the government, such reports being open to public inspection. Heavy penalties would be provided for evasion of this section.

The legislation aims a concentrated blow at abuses, instead of dealing with them serially over a period of time, as advocated by Democratic senators who have bills scheduled for debate.

A large body of union members probably would oppose any law compelling them to incorporate their organizations, and thus establish status as "legal persons." It is obvious, however, that incorporation, with legal responsibilities commensurate with the privileges set out in their charters, would have prevented the abuses and public scandals now under attack from both sides of Congress.

But perhaps the American unions themselves, after they have operated under their new bill of rights, will voluntarily seek incorporation as the ultimate guarantee of protection from the forms of gangsterism that have been imposed upon them as a result of their presently tenuous constitutional status.—The Toronto Globe and Mail.

JACK THE GIANT KILLER

REPORT FROM THE U.K.

More Britons Eye Canada

By M. MCINTYRE HOOD
Special Correspondent for The Herald

LONDON — There are definite signs of a revival of interest in migration to Canada among the British public. I found evidence of this when I attended a meeting in the spacious and ornate Portico Hotel, attended by about 125 prospective immigrants, eager to acquire first-hand information which would be of value to them should they decide to migrate to Canada.

Outstanding feature of the meeting was the showing of three films depicting life in Canada. The first dealt with the historical background of the country and the diversity of peoples who now make up the population of Canada. The second gave a broad picture of Canadian expansion in development of natural resources and industry. The third took the audience on a tour of the 10 provinces of Canada, showing the Canadian pattern of life. They were excellent films, and gave an authentic and true picture of the Canadian scene.

CONDITIONS EXPLAINED

The speaker at the meeting was R. J. Grinstead, counselling officer of the Canadian Government Immigration Service in the United Kingdom. He dealt very thoroughly with the conditions which British immigrants could expect to find on arrival in Canada, dealing with employment, accommodation, education, social and welfare services and taxation, and the opportunities which presented themselves to newcomers to Canada.

Mr. Grinstead did not in any degree over-gild the life. He did not gloss over the present problem of unemployment. He was quite frank in discussing it. But he did say that for those who had an assured job to go to in Canada, and for those in occupations for which there was a shortage of help in Canada, there was a splendid opportunity to share in the Canadian expansion. From my own experience and knowledge of Canada, I would say that Mr. Grinstead's exposition, and the answers he gave to the many questions asked, left no doubt in the minds of his audience that success in Canada depended on a willingness to work hard and adaptability to the ways of the country.

MOSTLY YOUNG COUPLES

Most of those in the audience were young people. We noticed what looked like many young married couples, and they showed an avid interest in all they saw and heard. Some of them have already decided to take the plunge and go to Canada.

This meeting, we learned, was only one of many being held in various parts of the country to give authentic and accurate information to prospective Canadian immigrants.

Only one criticism has to be made. The film on Canadian expansion was rather obviously dated. It introduced the Hon. C. D. Howe as Canada's Minister of Trade and Commerce, and had him deliver a brief speech, in which he said that Canada depended on that capacity, on the great expansion in Canada's development.

The Foundation says that a diagnosis of classical rheumatoid arthritis requires at least seven of the following:

1. Morning stiffness.
2. Pain on motion or tenderness in at least one joint.
3. Swelling in at least one joint.
4. Swelling of at least one other joint.
5. Symmetrical joint swelling with simultaneous involvement of the same joint on both sides of the body.
6. Subcutaneous nodules over bony prominences on exterior surfaces or in the juxta-articular regions.
7. X-ray changes of typical rheumatoid arthritis.
8. Positive agglutination test.
9. Poor mucin precipitate from synovial fluid (with shreds and cloudy solution).
10. Characteristic histologic changes in the synovial membrane.
11. Characteristic histologic changes in nodules.

In addition, there are other qualifications on some of these individual points.

For example, in Numbers one through five, the point symptoms must continue for a period of at least six weeks before the trouble can be considered as rheumatoid arthritis.

For a diagnosis of definite rheumatoid arthritis, at least five of the points must be present. And for a diagnosis of possible rheumatoid arthritis, at least two of them must be observed by a physician.

CAN'T DIAGNOSE

So you see it isn't possible to diagnose accurately a case of rheumatoid arthritis simply from a complaint of a stiff elbow or knee.

Diagnosing is a job for the physician. And even he must make a careful and prolonged examination before he can say definitely that the trouble is arthritis.

Diagnosing Arthritis Case

OTTAWA REPORT

Employee Value In Penticton

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

I wonder whether it was intuition or a touch of civic pride which prompted Mr. J. W. Murphy, the long-time Conservative M.P. for Lambton-West, to ask that interesting question which showed up his home town of Sarnia as Canada's Number One manufacturing centre?

This is the simple-looking question which my good friend Murphy asked dead-pan:

"In the manufacturing industry, which twenty cities in Canada have the highest manufacturing value in dollars per employee? And what is the manufacturing value, or productivity in dollars per employee for each said city?"

The Hon. Gordon Churchill, Minister of Trade and Commerce, gave the answer that showed Sarnia to be the top-ranking city in this respect.

The productivity per employee in Sarnia is $21,999 for the year 1956. That is very nearly double the productivity achieved by each employee in the second-ranking city, Beauport, P.Q., where the productivity is an average of $11,671. Moose Jaw was only just nosed out of second place, for the average Moose-Javian worker racked up a productivity of $11,011.

THE ALSO RANS
Port Arthur ranked seventh, with an average productivity of $9,287 per worker.

The all-Canada average, for all workers in manufacturing industries, was $6,941. This productivity is the average "improvement" put into the raw materials by each factory selling price of all goods manufactured in the community under study; by deducting the cost of fuel and electricity used in those plants; and then dividing the figure by the number of employees, including supervisory and office staff and production workers.

This resultant figure, which Mr. Churchill calls "value added per employee", is of course very largely conditioned by the amount of machinery and other manufacturing aids provided in each plant to boost the value which each employee is able to add. The huge but nevertheless very commendable average obtained at Sarnia is in large measure accounted for by the very costly equipment provided in the petro-chemical industry there.

The city with the nineteenth highest "value added per employee", according to Trade Minister Gordon Churchill's answer in the House of Commons, is Kingston, Ontario. Its figure is $7,177.

Now I was so interested by these figures that I obtained a copy of the review of "The Manufacturing Industries of Canada in 1956", which is prepared by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics; then I sharpened my pencil and my wits and did some figuring.

PRINCE ALBERT RANKS

I was glad to find that in fact Prince Albert outranks Kingston, with an average productivity per factory worker of $7,248.

The reason for the omission of my favorite city of Northern Saskatchewan must have been that its statistics are based upon less than 1,000 workers. The figure I came up with was based on the results of 796 employees in 33 establishments in Prince Albert.

I mentioned that the all-Canada average in 1956 was $6,941. This figure will put into perspective the achievements of workers in certain other cities, not rated among Canada's Top Twenty, which I have calculated myself: Chatham, Ontario $8,569; Guelph, Ontario $6,218; Galt, Ontario $5,358; Woodstock, Ontario $5,445; Welland, Ontario $6,125.

Quebec City attained $5,830. In British Columbia, Nanaimo reported $6,956; Kelowna $5,605; Penticton around $5,000; and Kamloops $5,677.

One of the more interesting Canadian figures might have been that relating to our motoropolis, Oshawa. But statistics are withheld to avoid disclosure of individual companies' operations in all cases where one or two establishments account for nearly all the total selling value of factory shipments. For this reason, Oshawa's figures have not been revealed by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Anti-Semitism Haunts Germany

By HERB ALTSCHULL

DUESSELDORF, Germany (AP)—The spectre of anti-Semitism is haunting Germany again, but a Jewish leader says Jews are not worried.

"There is a strong potential for anti-Semitism in Germany but I don't believe it has grown stronger in the last year," says Hendrik van Dam, director of the German Jewish Council.

These are some incidents of the last year:

A high school teacher declared "not enough Jews were gassed" during the Hitler era. A German consular official in New York was accused of calling a journalist "a dirty Jew." A hospital attendant said he would volunteer to administer death injections "if there were extermination camps for Jews in West Germany today." A businessman announced in a beer hall conversation that the Nazis "forgot to gas many a Jew."

OTHER INDIGNITIES

All four of these persons were either jailed or dismissed from their posts. Jewish gravestones have been overturned and graves desecrated in half a dozen cities. A giant Nazi swastika was painted on the handsome new synagogue in Duesseldorf.

The Adenauer government is officially dismayed at these outbreaks. Van Dam takes this view: "These are all isolated incidents. Anti-Semitism is a fact of life throughout the world. And we know that the German government is doing what it can to stamp it out."

No one in German public life has a kind word for racial hatred. Public men are enormously sensitive on the subject. They remember that Hitler and his minions murdered 4,500,000 Jews in the 1940s. Of that number 180,000 were German Jews.

Before the Nazis came to power the Jewish population of Germany was 600,000. Today it is about 30,000.

LEGISLATION REVIEWED

Van Dam, a 51-year-old lawyer from Berlin, fled the country during the reign of terror and returned a decade ago. His council administers affairs for the Jewish population of the country.

"One should not overstate and one should not underestimate anti-Semitism in Germany," he says.

Bake Apples With Cinnamon Syrup

A plain baked apple is good, but a glazed baked apple is even better.

Make these in quantity so that you have some to serve as a breakfast fruit and some to send along as a dessert for those who pack a lunch pail. When they come from the oven, these apples are really beauties in any man's language. For a special dessert, serve them with custard sauce.

GLAZED BAKED APPLES

- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 1 teaspoon cornstarch
- 1/2 cup water
- Grated rind 1 lemon
- 4 teaspoons lemon juice
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- Red food coloring
- 6 large baking apples

Combine sugar and starch in small saucepan. Add water, lemon rind and juice and cinnamon. Cook over low heat until sauce boils. Add 2 to 3 drops red food coloring to tint the sauce delicately.

Wash and core apples, pare one-third of the way down. Place in baking dish so that they are about 2 inches apart. Bake uncovered to 350°F. oven for 45 to 50 minutes, or until apples are just tender when pierced with a fork. Baste often with syrup during baking. Remove from oven, baste apples occasionally with syrup as they cool. When cool, transfer to serving dishes. Serve plain, with whipped cream or custard sauce.

Molded Gelatine With Crisp Apples

Molded apple tang is a combination of apple crispness and grapefruit tartness molded in gelatin, that teams nicely with sliced meat such as roast pork, ham, chicken or turkey.

APPLE TANG

- 2 envelopes plain gelatin
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 1 1/2 cups boiling water
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups unpeeled diced apple
- 1 1/2 cups grapefruit segments, undrained
- 1/2 cup chopped walnuts

Soften gelatin in cold water, add boiling water, stir until dissolved. Add sugar and salt. When chilled until syrupy, add apple, grapefruit with juice, and nuts. Mold and chill. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

Regent Mrs. Downey welcomed

Serve Hot or Cold Sauce With Fish

New cooks will welcome the reminder that a cold sauce may be served with either hot or cold fish, while a hot sauce is usually only served with hot fish.

To lend a professional touch to a fish stick dinner, serve the heated steaks with this tangy, cold, Mustard-Mayonnaise. Combine 1/2 of a cup of mayonnaise, 2 tablespoons of prepared mustard, 2 tablespoons of capers, and 1 tablespoon of lemon juice.

Mix the ingredients well, and chill before serving. Incidentally this sauce is also delicious with fish croquettes.

TED BOWSFIELD FLEXES his strong left arm for Herb Capozzi, Cedric Tallis and Hec McDonald. The three men, all directly concerned with major sport in B.C., were guest speakers at Saturday night's testimonial dinner honoring the young Boston Red Sox pitcher as athlete-of-the-year.

Bowsfield Receives Standing Ovation

By STAN KELLY

A standing ovation from close to 150 old friends and sports fans marked the end of Ted Bowsfield's speech at a testimonial dinner in the Hotel Prince Charles Saturday night honoring the young southpaw as athlete of the year.

Sponsored by the Penticton Baseball Club the dinner was attended by civic officials, well known figures from the sporting world, and members of the local press, radio and television.

In his brief speech the Boston Red Sox left-hander who played his early baseball in Penticton, said of all the honors accorded him since making the big time "this is the greatest."

"Penticton will always be home to me," he said. "And I can assure you that no honor has so touched me as this."

Earlier in the proceedings three guest speakers, Herb Capozzi, manager of B.C. Lions, Cedric Tallis, manager of the Vancouver Mounties, and Hec McDonald, former president of the Penticton ball club, paid warm tribute to Boston's rookie of the year and to Penticton for honoring him.

Highlights of the address by Mr. Tallis was the promise that if a suitable playing date could be found, his Mounties would play at least one exhibition game in Penticton prior to the opening of this year's baseball season.

"After seeing your city and your baseball park my only regret is that your spring doesn't come just a little earlier," Mr. Tallis said. "Quite frankly, I'd like to bring the Mounties here for their spring training."

Of the guest of honor Mr. Tallis said no one knew better than Ted that last year's success "was last year's. The coming season is an unknown factor."

"But," he added, "Ted Bowsfield has gone as far as he has because he possesses that all important ingredient for all athletes—desire. With that desire, plus hard work, I think he will become one of the outstanding left-handers of the American League."

Herb Capozzi, joking about the "minor sport of baseball" noted the great credit due a young Canadian who has the ability to break into the American big time. "Any Canadian boy seeking a spot in the big league has a tremendous obstacle to overcome," he said.

come," he said. "When he starts on the trail he finds that he is at least four years behind his American competitors so far as training goes. The fact that Ted Bowsfield was able to overcome this obstacle is a great credit to him—and to the men who guided him in his early years."

Mr. Capozzi went on to say that the publicity brought Ted's home town was immeasurable.

"Considered from a publicity angle Ted Bowsfield has brought Penticton immeasurable publicity," he stated. "More than that he has shown every Canadian youngster that it is possible to reach the top even if you are born in a small city in Canada."

For B.C. Lions football fans Mr. Capozzi had a brief message of hope. "I can't promise you a Grey Cup in the coming season, but I can promise you a much better showing than ever before."

PROUD TO BE BACK
Hec McDonald, obviously proud to be back in Penticton for such an occasion, introduced speakers and commented briefly on his several years with the local ball club.

"I never had the honor of watching Ted Bowsfield play," he said. "He had moved on to bigger things when I arrived here, but he left behind him a name which I heard mentioned many times. There didn't appear to be any doubt in the minds of those who watched him that he was going places."

A fourth speaker, Annis Stukus, sportswriter and former coach of the B.C. Lions, was unable to attend the banquet being confined to bed with the flu.

Jim Hume, editor of the Herald, thanked the speakers.

Chairman of the banquet, Gliss Winter, later called on Ted's Penticton coach Les Edwards to reminisce about the early troubles Ted had as a youngster pitching from Okanagan mounds.

Mr. Edwards said that even in the earliest days he and others knew that Ted had something extra to take him to greatness.

"I don't think there's any doubt in our minds now that Ted will have a long and successful career in the majors," he added.

THREE PRESENTATIONS
Three presentations were made to the only major leaguer to come out of British Columbia.

Alderman Clem Bird presented the young pitcher with a sports jacket on behalf of the people of Penticton. "We are all very proud of you and the wonderful things you have done for your hometown," he said.

Maurice Finnelly, president of radio station CKOK, presented Ted with a desk pen sent mounted with a baseball. "We hope that when your long and successful career is over you'll look at this small gift sometimes and tell your children of the time you received it," Mr. Finnelly said.

Jim Hume, also made a presentation "to you, Ted, but the gift is for your wife."

"We at the Penticton Herald think you will agree with us that it doesn't matter how much ability you may have as an individual, without the help of good teammates you couldn't get very far. That's why we thought that at this time we'd like to pay tribute to your wife Lila who must have assisted you greatly in the past and will, we trust, go on to even greater things with you."

The Herald's gift to Mrs. Bowsfield was a hand-out glass perfume container with colored top-glass leaded in the neck, and a bottle of perfume.

Sharing the guest of honor spot at the head table was Ted Bowsfield's father, Frank. Mr. Bowsfield senior, in a short speech of thanks for the honor accorded his son, asked all sportsmen present "with up and coming youngsters" to "be patient with your children when they're playing and sometimes losing. Your reactions at such times can mean a great deal to their future."

Bob Hughes, member of the Penticton Baseball executive, introduced Mr. Bowsfield. Out of town guests included Mayor Dick Parkinson and "Cap" Capozzi from Kelowna.

In his closing remarks Gliss Winter thanked the baseball club for its foresight in planning the testimonial banquet and "Don Forrest in particular for a magnificent job of organizing."

Bernie, Eddie Knot NHL Scoring Race

By GEORGE FRAJOKOR
Canadian Press Staff Writer

New York Rangers' coach Phil Watson has never been hesitant about declaring that his goater Lorne (Gump) Worsley is bloated with beer, and Worsley is just as ready with his feelings about Phil.

Nevertheless, after the Rangers took a fierce 5-1 beating from Montreal Canadiens Sunday night, fiery Phil was mad at everybody but Gump. He made the whole team except Worsley practise skating for 43 minutes after the game as punishment for a sloppy showing.

The loss didn't mean much in the National Hockey League standings, but it did provide the setting for Dickie Moore of Montreal to become the season's first 30-goal scorer and for Bernie Boom Boom Geoffrion to catch New York's Andy Bathgate in the scoring race. Eddie Litzenberger of Chicago caught him, too.

Otherwise, the Rangers, with 52 points, were too far ahead to be caught by fifth-place Detroit Red Wings, who beat Toronto Maple Leafs 4-2 Sunday.

And they were too far back to catch third-place Boston Bruins, who ended the weekend with 56 points after missing a chance at second place by dropping a 2-1 decision to Montreal Saturday and managing only a 3-3 tie with Chicago Sunday.

Last-place Toronto helped hold the Hawks within the Bruins range by beating Chicago 5-1 Saturday.

Moore started his drive to the NHL's goal-getting title by scoring his 29th goal of the season Saturday against Boston, earlier, he set up a tally by Henri (Pocket-Rocket) Richard, who in New York Sunday suffered a shoulder separation in a pileup and will join big brother Maurice (Rocket) Richard on the sidelines for a while.

At New York, Worsley, making his first start after a two-game absence with a pulled muscle, held up the lack-lustre Rangers in the division standings.

for 2½ periods before everything collapsed. He made a total of 33 saves.

Little Camille Henry had given New York a 1-0 lead in the second period. Then, at 9:51 of the third, Montreal rookie Ab McDonald started the fireworks by banging in a goal.

Then Phil Goyette got one, Moore got his, Geoffrion another and Marcel Bonin the last, all within 10 minutes. The goal, and an assist, tied Geoffrion with Bathgate for the league's scoring lead at 64 points.

Litzenberger got only two assists during the weekend but it was enough to tie him with Bathgate and Geoffrion. He got in on the Hawks' lone goal—scored by linemate Tod Sloan—Saturday at Toronto. The Maple Leafs spread their five markers around with Frank Mahovlich, Barry Cullen, Bob Pulford, Billy Harris, and George Armstrong getting one each. Mahovlich also picked up two assists.

Sunday, Litzenberger managed another assist as Ted Lindsay, Bobby Hull and Dollard St. Laurent scored for Chicago. Jean Guy Gendron, Johnny Bucyk and Bronco Horvath tallied for Boston.

THREE POINTS FOR HOWE
In the other game Sunday Detroit and Toronto exchanged the league cellar again as Gordie Howe fired a goal and got two assists to lead the Wings to a 4-2 victory.

Other Detroit goals were scored by rookie defenceman Pete Goggin—his first NHL goal—Len Lundie and Jack McIntyre.

Toronto's two were scored by Mahovlich and Dick Duff.

New York plays Chicago Wednesday in the only game scheduled.

In another Saturday night game Seattle Totems nipped Victoria 5-4 in overtime at Victoria. Sunday night's Totems stretched their first-place lead in the coast division to 14 points with a 3-1 win over Vancouver at Seattle.

Tonight the slumping Edmonton Flyers, second in the Prairie division, travel to Winnipeg for a game against Warriors. Winnipeg is looking for a victory to move within a point of Saskatoon in the division standings.

In the other OSHL game Saturday a fired-up Kamloops Chiefs poured on the coal to slug the league-leading Kelowna Packers 6-3.

Coach Pat Coburn phoned just before dead line to say that Allan Richards who played for the Vees Saturday was the best hockey prospect he has ever seen.

Richards who was brought up from the BCD Juveniles for the game, as Pat put it, never made a wrong move all night, he was taking his regular turn on the ice as both Pat Coburn and Jack Taggart were unable to play due to injuries.

He played like a real old pro, said Pat "making perfect passes as well as being a standout on defence."

Pat also said that Richards could if he wished to continue in hockey, turn out to be a really outstanding player.

He went on to commend all of the three other young players, Larry Lund, Tom Balfour and Bob Parker, saying that they played fine heads up hockey.

High School Curling Tourney Starts Today

CALGARY — (CP) — The pre-tournament favorites, Jack Hellemond of Manitoba and Tom Tod of Northern Ontario, were expected to have a little trouble getting past the first two rounds today of the Canadian high school curling championship.

Hellemond, a member of last year's Manitoba entry in the Dominion men's finals, drew a bye in the opening round and meets the untried Newfoundland entry in the evening draw.

Tod, last year's champion, meets Nova Scotia in the 2:30 p.m. draw and goes against New Brunswick in the second round at 8:15.

While Tod may expect a battle from Wayne Rhodenizer's spirited Nova Scotia rink, there seemed to be little doubt the defending champion would get off to a good start.

WEST DOMINANT
The title has never gone east of Kingston, Ont., in the 12 years the Dominion final has been held. The championship has been taken by Western provinces nine times. Saskatchewan leads with seven titles.

In other first-round action Newfoundland meets Saskatchewan, Quebec goes against New Brunswick, Ontario plays British Columbia and Prince Edward Island meets Alberta.

The second round also places Nova Scotia against British Columbia, Prince Edward Island against Quebec and Saskatchewan against Alberta. Ontario drew a bye.

Third in the event was Per Myhre of the Sons with 188.9 feet.

In the senior men's slalom, Bert Irwin of Amber completed the course in 1:08.1 minutes, beating out Revelstoke skier Larry Nelles by less than three seconds. Karve Westheim of the Sons of Norway came third in 1:09.5.

Margrit Raffle of Shuswap led the women in the senior slalom. She completed the tricky course in 1:17.0 to score a more than three-second victory over Sandra Fraser of the Grouse Mountain, Vancouver, club.

The Outremont quartet Saturday easily won its match in the final round of the provincial championship. Outremont registered seven wins against two losses.

The D event went to Mrs. Ida Topham of Peachland, with Mrs. Esther Carse of Penticton, second, Mrs. Millie Topham, Peachland, third, and Annie Dundson of Summerland, fourth.

Seventeen penalties were called in the rather sloppy game, Vernon getting nine and Penticton eight.

The game started raggedly with neither team being able to hit the net until the 18 minute mark, Penticton, at the 18 minute mark, unassisted.

A rash of penalties to Vernon opened the second period but Penticton missed the boat when they were unable to capitalize on a two man advantage.

At 18:57 Vernon tied it up with a goal by Edwards assisted by Churchill and Anderson. Penticton came right back, with Paddy Newton taking a pass from Martin and slapping in, what proved to be the winner with five seconds left in the period.

Vernon pressed hard in the last period but were unable to come up with a goal and Penticton took home a win and a one game edge in the series.

The next minor hockey playoff action here, is on Tuesday night, when Penticton Midget All-Stars take on Vernon at 8:00 p.m.

The locals have to win this one to avoid elimination, having dropped their first game in Vernon.

'We Have Had no Peace' Since Negro Kissing Case

By NATHAN WEGODSKY
CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — "I don't want all this racket about the case."
Mrs. Evelyn Thompson paused to shoo some of the young children out of the living room of her four-roomed home as she talked about her 10-year-old son, who was involved with another Negro boy in North Carolina's celebrated kissing case.

"We haven't had much peace ever since it happened last October," the son, James Hanover Thompson, "is really a good boy," said Mrs. Thompson. "He tried to work raking leaves and such in Monroe to bring in some money, and when the fair came to town, he helped around there and it brought him a little cash."

RETURNED TO MOTHERS

The boy and a playmate, David (Fuzzy) Simpson, 9, were sent back to the custody of their mothers Friday from a reform school. They had been sent there after forcing a kiss from a six-year-old white girl. The intervention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was instrumental in their release. The NAACP also moved the two families from Monroe to Charlotte.

"James had a bicycle. He used to ramble around Monroe, and I guess that helped him get into the kissing trouble," said his mother, a 35-year-old woman who has five other children.

"He and Fuzzy had raked some leaves for a white lady that day and were on their way home. Some white boys asked them to play cowboys and Indians. Then some white girls joined in. They got into a big cement pipe, a culvert, and I guess some of the white girls sat in their laps, playful like. Then a policeman came to my house that night and told me that James had been arrested."

TRUSTED SERVANTS

"I had done some housework at the home of the white girl. In fact, my mother had worked for 19 years at the home of her grandmother."

"The night of the case I was told by some white people in Monroe that my family would be killed if I didn't get out of town. Now that we are settled in Charlotte, James is going to start school in the fourth grade. My 15-year-old boy will be in the eighth grade—he brings in a little money caddy at a golf course. I'll have two younger girls in school and the baby girl will be home with me."

Retarded Children Society Stresses Education Needs

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Association for Retarded Children of British Columbia and the Registered Nurses' Association of B.C. today released the context of their briefs to be presented to the Chant Royal Commission on Education here.

The association for handicapped children say the province's Public Schools Act should be amended to provide adequate accommodation and appropriate tuition for all children, regardless of their mental or physical condition.

The association claims specifically that only a limited education program for B.C.'s 9,000 mentally retarded school-age children is in effect. Provision should be made in special classes in public schools for the 6,750 children who are only mildly retarded.

The nurses' group claims teaching methods in elementary and secondary schools in arithmetic, spelling, grammar and composition should be improved so that girls will be better prepared to enter special schools for nurses.

The association says girls now entering nursing show weaknesses in these subjects. Their brief also says there is a need on the part of high school principals and counsellors to be better informed about nursing as a career.

The Royal Commission resumes its hearings here Feb. 23.

SOVIET PAPER HITS TIPPING

MOSCOW (AP)—Trud published Sunday a half-page denunciation of the practice of tipping, blaming both those who gave and those who received.

An article written for the Soviet trade union organ by an engineer named V. Vrublevsky said "the very word tip smells of old times."

Cab drivers, tailors, barbers, grocery delivery girls and manicurists all have their hands out for gratuities, Vrublevsky wrote, and "those hands must be slapped down."

Red Infiltration Of New Labor Party Assailed

HAMILTON (CP)—Two problems said to be faced by labor—the "big business" Liberal party and Communist infiltration in the proposed new Canadian labor party—were discussed by speakers at a weekend conference of the Ontario Federation of Labor education.

Ontario CCF Leader Donald C. MacDonald told 250 union delegates the vital question facing Ontario voters is whether the CCF or the Liberals would provide the most effective opposition in the next legislature.

Hazen Argue, CCF leader in the Commons, said open intervention in the Newfoundland loggers' strike by Liberal Premier Joseph Smallwood on the side of the Anglo-Newfoundland Development Company makes federal government action necessary.

Various delegates to the conference shunned suggestions that the Canadian labor congress proposed new political party should open its ranks to workers of all political shades, declaring the Communists have no place in a democratically-controlled party.

Mr. MacDonald said the question of an opposition party in the Ontario legislature "is a most serious one."

He said that during the Conservatives' 16 years in power in Ontario, "first the Liberals provided the opposition, then the CCF, then the Liberals again."

Labor Asked to Review Position

OTTAWA (CP)—Ian F. McRae, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, said today that if labor pressures on government for increased expenditures are seriously meant and not just so much window-dressing, there is clearly a need for labor to review its position.

Addressing the Ottawa Rotary Club, Mr. McRae said organized labor had recently asked the government to spend hundreds of millions more dollars.

"Labor," he added, "visualized the government as a vast redistribution agency whereby the money for its proposals is found by squeezing corporations and 'soaking the idle rich.'"

STRANGE PRESCRIPTION

"This is surely a strange prescription for recovery. There is no recognition that industry is already financing in large part existing welfare programs or that the 'idle rich,' in the classic sense of the phrase, are a vanishing breed."

"There are only 86,000 Canadians earning more than $10,000 a year in a labor force of 6,000,000. Of these, only 2,500 have an income of more than $50,000 a year and they kick back nearly 40 per cent to Ottawa."

"If we were to double the personal income tax of these 2,500 men who dared to be successful, it would produce $78,000,000 or so extra money—a small part of the increased expenditures 'on labor' suggests."

"One item alone—the proposal to hoist old-age pensions to $75 a month—would require an additional $200,000,000 in government revenue."

"Labor also wants higher family allowances, subsidized housing, a full health insurance plan—and, at the same time, higher income tax exemptions."

RICH CANNOT PAY

"So, if the so-called rich cannot pay for this Ottawa-sent bonanza, how is it to be materialized?" "They," obviously, are the hundreds of thousands of individual Canadians—including unionists—who have staked their savings on the success of these corporations."

USE FOR SMALL TREES
The mature trees used in making pulp and paper average only nine inches in diameter.

"They" only get their share of profits—if share there be—after governments have taken a cut of nearly half the total. Out of what is left comes the money for new plant and equipment, the essentials of future expansion and, therefore, of jobs.

"If any government were so ill-advised as to accede to labor's demands, the end result would be vastly heavier taxes, not just on the so-called rich and corporations, but on every consumer in Canada, unionists included."

Senate Democrats Pledge Cooperation On Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democrats today promised a full measure of co-operation with the Eisenhower administration on foreign policies during State Secretary Dulles' illness.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said after a conference with Chairman J. William Fulbright (Dem.-Ark.) of the foreign relations committee that Democrats will do everything they can to help keep administration foreign policies intact.

"It will be the policy of the majority to advise and consult with the administration in every possible way in an attempt to help them develop a strong, positive foreign policy," Johnson said.

PLEDGE SUPPORT

Democratic senators John Sparkman of Alabama and Mike Mansfield of Montana, other members of the committee, made similar pledges in separate interviews.

Dulles, in Walter Reed Memorial Hospital, is to begin a series of radiation treatments for cancer.

The state department said Sunday that Dulles' condition "continues satisfactory." It disclosed that during the day Dulles talked for about 15 minutes with acting state secretary Christian Herter about matters concerning the department.

HERTER WILLING

Herter, returning Saturday from a vacation, told reporters he would accept appointment as state secretary if President Eisenhower asked him to.

IWA to File Suits Against Smallwood

GRAND FALLS, Nfld. (CP)—International Woodworkers of America (IWA) lawyers today will start proceedings in two law suits against Premier Smallwood in connection with a speech he made Thursday night.

H. Landon Ladd, president of IWA's district 2, said in a radio address Saturday night the union will ask the labor minister for permission, as required by law, to prosecute Premier Smallwood "for unfair labor practices."

The suit would be in connection with the government's intervention in the strike IWA called against the Anglo-Newfoundland Development Company here. It started Dec. 31 to back demands for higher wages and a shorter work week.

FIGHTS THE UNION

The premier advised loggers in a province-wide radio and television talk Thursday night to send the IWA out of the province and organize a union of their own.

Mr. Smallwood, who has previously organized at least a dozen unions, offered the full support of the provincial cabinet.

Mr. Ladd said Saturday night that lawyer James Green will file a libel suit against the premier for $100,000 because "he attacked our characters."

Opposition to Mr. Smallwood's blunt stand on the strike was voiced by the Nova Scotia Federation of Labor and the Cape Breton Labor Council Sunday pledged support to the loggers. The CLBC said "the anti-labor sentiments voiced by Premier Smallwood are repugnant to all working classes."

LIBERALS COMPLAIN

Ontario Liberal member Albert Wren asked national Liberal

Leader Pearson to call Mr. Smallwood before the council of the National Liberal Federation "to show just cause why he should not be barred from the Liberal party of Canada."

British Columbia Liberal Leader Arthur Laing accused Mr. Smallwood of ignoring party principles in labor matters.

President David Archer of the Ontario Federation of Labor said "this speech by Mr. Smallwood over television is the first incident of its kind in our history."

Hamilton's 15,000 members of the United Steelworkers of America (CLC) will be asked to give full moral and financial support to the Newfoundland loggers.

CCF House Leader Hazen Argue gave notice that he will ask in the Commons that the government table documents concerning the strike of loggers.

Hope Ordered To Slow Down

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This is how Bob Hope takes it easy—shooting retakes on a movie. During his last television show, the hitherto indestructible Hope felt a fainting spell coming on—right in the middle of his monologue. He managed to finish his jokes, rested in his dressing room and completed the taping of the show.

His trouble was diagnosed as a blood clot in one eye. The doctor said it had been brought on by worry and overwork.

SLOW DOWN ORDERED

"You'll have to slow down and not try to do so much," Hope was told.

"But I can't, doc!" he protested. "I've been doing this all my life. I love going places and playing audiences everywhere."

"You know that," the medic replied, "but your blood vessels don't."

The prescription: Rest, and plenty of it. Hope at bay was a sight to be seen, and I sought him out. But I found him on a stage at Paramount, doing a day's retakes for his own film Alas Jesse James.

"The doc doesn't mind, as long as I take it slow," the comedian explained. "And I do. I just accept things as they come now. No racing around. No looking for audiences to play to. When I'm in a meeting and I feel my head starting to tighten up, I get out in a hurry."

His breakneck trip to entertain U.S. troops abroad during the holidays brought the trouble on, he said.

He had fainting spells in Spain, Germany and Iceland, but kept on going. Now, he claims, he's scared enough to slow down.

SALLY'S SALLIES

"So glad, dear, you suggest a double wedding; it will be twice the fun!"

Opening lead—nine of hearts.

Duplicate bridge places a big premium on absolute precision. Making an extra trick, which the rubber bridge player scorns as a trivium, may assume much importance when garnered in a tournament.

This deal was played in a national championship some years ago. Declarer was Anne Burnstein, of Miami Beach, sister of Edith Kemp, both outstanding stars in the distaff division. East won the heart lead with the ace and returned the queen. Mrs. Burnstein took the king, West playing the eight. West did not play the deuce because he feared that the two would indicate—in line with standard convention—no more hearts. (West later had cause to regret the eight play.)

Declarer then proceeded to cash three diamonds and five clubs, producing this position:

With the lead in dummy at this point, Mrs. Burnstein managed to make two of the three remaining tricks. She led the five of diamonds, deliberately losing a trick to West, but at the same time applying a squeeze on East.

East could not find a suitable discard on the diamond play. If he discarded a spade, declarer would throw a heart, thus making two spade tricks. Or if East discarded the jack of hearts, declarer would throw a spade and make the last two tricks with the spade ace and heart seven.

So Mrs. Burnstein made five notrump by combining in one play a throw-in and a squeeze. True, the defense slipped along the way, especially on the eight of hearts play which subjected East to the squeeze but Mrs. B. took full advantage of the situation to strut her stuff.

Tomorrow: Extraordinary defense defeats contract.

Influenza Hits Europe

LONDON (Reuters)—Influenza again is sweeping Europe but the outbreaks are reported as normal seasonal rises and according to the World Health Organization there has been no evidence so far of any widespread epidemic such as last year's Asian flu.

Only in Britain and Russia have there been any reports of Asian viruses and these have been largely scattered, the W.H.O. said.

There were 144 deaths from influenza and influenza pneumonia in England and Wales in the first week of this month, British health officials report.

But the figures for this year were well below those of the corresponding period in 1958, when the Asian flu epidemic was raging. There were 327 flu deaths up to Feb. 7 this year, compared with 1,271 in the corresponding period last year.

Elsewhere in Europe there are reports of normal seasonal rises of a mild four-day flu, except in Austria where health officials have described the wave as reaching "epidemic character."

Pulp and paper operations have helped to raise the standard of living throughout Canada.

INFLATABLE LIFERAFTS

A demonstrator shows how to right an upturned 25-man Elliot Life-raft and board it from the water during demonstrations of inflatable liferafts and ancillary equipment at Greenock, in Scotland. A number of Elliot Liferafts were launched from a ship at East India Harbor, and various methods of boarding the rafts from the ship and from the water were demonstrated. An impressive feature was the average time was from 30 to 45 seconds. New regulations will speed the speed with which the rafts could be inflated ready for boarding; soon make it compulsory for inflatable rafts to be carried on many British ships.

Royal Commission Urged to Seek Government Economies

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian Manufacturers' Association today recommended that a royal commission or other appropriate agency be appointed to inquire into the present organization and methods of administration of the various departments of the federal government.

The recommendation was made in the association's annual pre-budget submission to the minister of finance.

On other matters the submission, signed by Ian F. McRae, association president, included the following recommendations:

No increase in either the corporation or personal income tax rates.

Addition to sales - tax exemptions of articles and materials which enter into the cost of manufacture or production of goods; and of all building materials, and articles and materials entering into their manufacture.

Abolition or substantial reduction in excise taxes—the special taxes levied on certain items, including automobiles, in addition to the sales tax.

Revision by the tariff board of sections of the customs tariff which are "out of date" and amendment of the tariff "in such a manner as to restore the protection which the special or dumping - duty provisions were originally designed to give Canadian manufacturers and producers."

The association said "no government board or other body should attempt to fix the rate of compensation for risks undertaken by private capital, as recommended in the interim report of the royal commission on energy.

"Any such actions," it said, "would slow down the expansion and diversification of Canada's growing economy. If additional safeguards are needed for public protection, we believe these can be provided through established bodies such as provincial securities commissions."

The recommendations were contained in a text made available to the press in advance of delivery.

ECONOMIES, A PRESSING NEED

In its royal commission recommendation the association said, in part: "There is pressing need for immediate and rigorous economies in all departments of government spending wherever expenditures are not already committed by existing legislation."

"While it is admittedly unrealistic, under present circumstances, to think in terms of reducing the present tax rates—even though they are generally agreed to be too high for the good of the economy—it is all the more imperative, when there is such pressing need to reduce the large national deficit, to effect maximum economies. We urge that no additional welfare expenditures be taken on while government accounts remain in such serious imbalance."

Nurses' Strike Vote Balloting To Begin Today

VANCOUVER (CP) — Balloting begins today in a government supervised strike vote among 800 registered nurses in eight Lower Mainland hospitals. The strike vote follows a refusal by the Vancouver hospitals to increase nurses' salaries by $20-a month, as recommended by a conciliation board. Nurses now receive $260 a month.

The recommendation was rejected by the hospitals after Health Minister Eric Martin said he could not guarantee hospitals further funds from the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service.

Miss Evelyn Hood, personnel director of the provincial Registered Nurses' Association, said the first vote would be taken at suburban Burnaby hospital.

If strike action is favored the association will prepare plans for staffing hospitals on an emergency basis.

Miss Hood said a strike by nurses in the Greater Vancouver area would be the first ever here.

"We have no emergency plans lying around for this sort of situation," she said. "We hope it won't have to come to a strike."

Results of the balloting are expected to be known Feb. 23.

COUNCIL BRIEFS

SIGNS COMING

No action is being taken by Penticton city council on a letter from John E. Grigor urging the need for cautionary signs in the vicinity of Valleyview Lodge. It was noted that the safety council was given permission to put up these signs last year but has not yet done so although the matter will be attended to, shortly.

RECEIVED WITH THANKS

Received "with thanks" was a letter from five Naramata women, describing themselves as "poor female drivers", and Naramata - Penticton commuters. The letter, signed by Mrs. A. Pedersen, Mrs. J. Tillar, Mrs. Mary Lamb and Mrs. Grant Curlew, complimented the city crews for cleaning and sanding of the Naramata Road this winter, suggesting that Premier Bennett should pay the city to look after the rest of this road that is beyond city limits.

OBJECT LESSON

Council's deliberations were witnessed by a delegation of eight Teen Town members headed by Brenda Booth who said she felt sure that all had gained "some knowledge on how to conduct council meetings."

LIBRARY TAX BOOST

MORE STUDY NEEDED

A parks commission recommendation that when sidewalks are proposed to be constructed in the city as a local improvement project, curbs and gutters be also included, was referred back to the commission for further study. It was pointed out that curbs are not desirable or necessary on all streets and that some arrangement would have to be made for maintenance of the boulevard curb.

TALK OF THE VALLEY

MANY A GEM

Working on a garbage truck during a snowstorm is surely a cheerless task. Yet someone has found a moment to attach two faded paper flowers to the hopper on one of Penticton Dray and Express' garbage vehicles. Watching the tattered paper blooms flap down a snowy street, we feel there's a moral somewhere, but darned if we can find it.

NOISY DAY

The quiet of Monday store closing day was shattered twice yesterday at Summerland. At noon the siren wailed to summon Summerland Fire Brigade to a chimney blaze at the home of Miss Carrie Harvey, Giant's Head Road. At 4 p.m. volunteers had to go out again to Granville Motors. Both fires were extinguished quickly with small damage.

for a trip to Powell River paper mills must parade in costumes made of old newspapers on Easter Monday. Two boys and two girls under 13 will win the trip. Rules of the contest are being forwarded to all district schools.

"DON'T SIGN"

Okanagan - Kootenay Cooperative Growers' Association has issued its "statement of policy" to all fruit growers. The statement urges greater participation by individual producers in the marketing of their produce. It also attacks the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association and the "three-party contract."

Penticton Rotary Club expects a full turnout for its February 25 meeting, when David Brower of the United Kingdom Information Service will be guest speaker. Mr. Brower set up the UKIS office in Vancouver in 1956.

Want Sidewalk but Location Unsettled

Penticton Avenue residents want a sidewalk but can't agree on which side of the street should get it.

At city council meeting last night, it was disclosed that the council initiative plan for a sidewalk along the north side of Penticton from Main to Government, was defeated with 17 protests registered from among the 32 property owners.

A. C. Nourse appeared in support of a petition to have the sidewalk on the north side with properties along the south paying a third of the local share of 50 per cent.

Another petition, however, asked that the sidewalk be on the south side with those fronting Penticton on the north, also contributing.

Cyril Green and Frank Apolzer also appeared before council, charging that Mr. Nourse had led Penticton Avenue residents to believe that the council initiative scheme was already lost when he was circulating his petition.

Council referred the matter to its board of works committee and city engineer to work out a plan of Penticton Avenue sidewalk construction which would be acceptable to both sides.

4 OTHERS INTERESTED City Clerk H. C. Andrew reported that four of seven other curb and sidewalk projects proposed as local improvements on a council initiative basis, had been defeated.

The four projects defeated were: Sidewalk along the north side

CHAPAKA AIR STRIP, RAILWAY SERVICE DISCUSSED

Bill Fraser New Head of Associated Boards Group

By H. A. PORTEOUS
Herald Oliver Bureau

OLIVER — A. W. K. "Bill" Fraser of Penticton and Okanagan Falls, was elected president of the Okanagan-Boundary Associated Boards of Trade at the annual meeting in Osoyoos last night.

Elected with Mr. Fraser were Dr. R. A. White of Oliver as vice-president and Jim Donald, secretary-manager of the Penticton board as secretary.

Maurice P. Finnerty of Penticton was elected a director of the B.C. Chamber of Commerce.

Sixty delegates attended the meeting representing boards of trade ranging from Rutland to Greenwood, Summerland being the only local unrepresented. H. H. Hesklith, chairman of the Osoyoos board of village commissioners, welcomed the delegates on behalf of the people of Osoyoos.

Provision of an airstrip for light aircraft at Chapaka in the Similkameen was part of the unfinished business that received considerable discussion.

LAND AVAILABLE

C. R. Finch of Cawston reported on a survey that had been made and said land could be obtained at reasonable cost which would provide a strip large enough to handle light aircraft. The land was adjacent to both American and Canadian customs and would enable air tourists to cross the international boundary with only one stop.

G. Brown of Tonasket, Washington agreed on the desirability of the airstrip owing to the increasing number of private aircraft now in use.

The meeting resolved to endorse this project of Keremcos and Cawston should they wish to proceed with it.

WATER CONTAMINATION

Also among unfinished business was action to be taken regarding Dr. D. A. Clarke's crusade against contamination of surface water in the Okanagan.

The meeting resolved that a committee be appointed to confer with Dr. Clarke on steps that should be taken to effect improvement. This committee will be asked to bring a report to the next meeting.

BOAT WATERWAY

A resolution was introduced by Al Trout on behalf of the Osoyoos board, requesting the provincial government to investigate feasibility of establishing a small boat waterway up the Okanagan. Mr. Trout said he had discussed this with Mr. Gagliardi at Osoyoos last month and the minister had shown considerable enthusiasm. He said too, that Ontario had a similar waterway which was widely advertised.

The meeting resolved to forward this resolution to the department of highways and the department of recreation.

ATTRACTING TOURISTS

Walter Reid of Okanagan Falls asked that a study be initiated to determine additional ways to attract tourists. He quoted methods used in other countries such as tourist script, special travel rates, fixed exchange rates and various other inducements.

The meeting agreed to forward this recommendation to the Okanagan Valley Tourist Association and the B.C. Chamber of Commerce.

A resolution from Okanagan Falls asked the CPR to resume its daily passenger service on the Kettle Valley line.

A Naramata resolution asking for compulsory motor vehicle inspection throughout the province was defeated.

The meeting, held in the Osoyoos Legion hall, was preceded by a social hour and dinner served by the ladies of the Canadian Legion.

The next quarterly meeting will be held in Cawston in May, date to be announced later.

CITY & DISTRICT

Monday, February 16, 1959 THE PENTICTON HERALD 3

City Applying for First Underpass

Construction of a railway underpass at the Vancouver Avenue crossing has the support of the provincial department of highways, city council was informed last night.

On receipt of the department's letter, council agreed to make application to the board of transport commissioners immediately for the underpass construction. Original plan was to hold off applications for underpasses until the current survey of city railway crossings by Stanley, Grimble and Roblin, consulting engineers, was completed.

In view of the highway department's support, however, and since the engineers' firm has the Vancouver Avenue survey completed, city council felt it was wise to apply immediately for elimination of this level crossing. Cost would be borne 80 per cent by the transport board, 10 per cent by the CPR, five per cent by the city and five per cent by the city.

It is also felt, however, that underpasses are needed on Westminster Avenue and Eckhardt

Avenue East, the latter being the scene of two car-train mishaps since the first of the year. Any action on these two crossings, however, will await the engineering survey which is to include some figures on summer traffic. Results of the survey are thus not expected before June.

Also being deferred until the survey is completed is a recommendation from the board of trade that the board of transport commissioners be urged to have automatic signals installed at all mainline railway crossings in the city.

BETTER LIGHTING

The board's further suggestion that better lighting should be installed at railway crossings was referred to the electrical department for recommendation. Aid P. E. Pauls, electrical committee chairman, said conversion of lights to mercury or fluorescent would cost about $150 for each of the 11 most important railway crossings in the city, the ones on Nanaimo Avenue East and Gahan Avenue being held not dangerous.

Tax Incentive Plan For Improvements

A tax incentive plan to encourage improvement of older buildings in the province, seemed like a good idea to Penticton city council last night but the council members wanted some advice from their assessor and treasurer before giving it their approval.

The plan, as outlined in a letter from J. D. Smith, M.L.A. for Victoria, is to have the provincial government pass legislation which would allow municipalities to give tax relief for improvement of older houses and buildings.

Mr. Smith pointed out that many owners of old buildings cannot afford to improve them because this would mean higher assessments and higher taxes. Instead, he suggested that such improvements might be exempted from taxation for a certain period if completed within a definite time limit such as two years.
